

CHARLESTON CITY PAPER

October 25, 2017
UVM: 191,908

492 announces new brunch specials

Bury me in baked eggs

Posted by Mary Scott Hardaway on Wed, Oct 25, 2017 at 3:23 PM

You can finally enjoy 492's beautiful patio on a Sunday afternoon without melting into King St., which is reason enough to celebrate. But there's more.

From 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. every Sunday, you can now salivate over 492's spankin new brunch items.

Order up steak frites served with sunnyside up eggs, feta cheese, and hatch green chili pepperonatta; baked eggs served with roasted okra, tomato, lobster mushroom, red chili, and aged cheddar; and the popular double bacon cheeseburger (of Two Boroughs Larder fame) with paprika aioli, pickles, fries, and a fried egg (if you so desire). Drink it all down with a $13 mimosa carafe, Bloody, or "Another Effen Mule" (made with Effen Vodka, cucumber, lime, ginger, and mint).

View the rest of the brunch menu here.

LOCATION DETAILS

492

492 King St.
Downtown
Charleston, SC
Bar, Tapas Bar and Modern American

